U.S. CONSTITUTION REQUIREMENT

The requirement of competence in U.S. Constitution can be met by one of the following:

1. Two semester unit course on the provisions and principles of the Constitution of the United States; or
2. An examination on the provisions and principles of the Constitution of the United States completed at a regionally accredited community college, college or university; or
3. A BA/BS degree awarded by a CSU campus (there is no stipulation on the date of graduation or grade received for the course)

If the individual has a degree from a University of California (UC) campus or a private independent college or university, he or she will need to meet options one or two above. Please note that the U.S. Constitution requirement at the UCs may be met by a high school course, which is not acceptable for teacher certification.

Area University and Community College courses that satisfy this requirement including Cal Lutheran are:

Cal Lutheran
HIST 121*
POLS 102, 203 OR 205

CSU Channel Islands
HIST 270, 271, 272, 275
POLS 150

CSUN
POLS 155 OR 355
CHS 260 OR 445
PAS 161

UCSB
POLSCI 12

Pepperdine
HIST 200 OR 304

UCLA
HIST 13 A, B OR C
HIST 151 A OR B
POLSCI 40

LA Pierce
POLS 01 19 or 30

Moorpark College
POLS M01 M03 or M05
URBN M01A

Ventura College
POLS V01 or V03

Oxnard College
POLS R100 R01or R02

The institutions listed below offer the U.S. Constitution examination for those candidates electing to meet this requirement by examination. You will need to contact the individual school for information and to a make an appointment.

California Lutheran University
Continuing & Professional Education
60 W Olsen Rd. # 7100
Thousand Oaks, CA 91360
http://www.callutheran.edu/cpe
(805) 493-3543

UCLA Extension
10995 Le Conte Avenue
Los Angeles, CA 90024-2882
https://www.uclaextension.edu/teachers_cred
(310) 206-8651

This course only meets CLU Credential Program admission. Will not meet US Constitution requirement at another university's credential program.