Paris FRANCE

THE AMERICAN BUSINESS SCHOOL (ABS)

"I loved being able to experience so many aspects of Parisian life: the rich history of the city, all the hidden treasures, the food, other international students, and just discovering a different way of life."
 - Clarice Hammett '06

The City

Paris has enchanted people for centuries with its beautiful sites, rich culture, and delectable cuisine. Parisians and visitors alike enjoy the famed landmarks of Paris: the Tuileries Gardens, the Louvre, Notre Dame Cathedral, Arc de Triomphe, and the Eiffel Tower. In this metropolitan city, the nearest café or park is just a short walk or metro ride away.

The Program

Specializing in business and communications courses, ABS is a great choice for CLU students seeking international experience in these areas. Students from other disciplines should consider this program as well; several general education courses are offered every semester. Although all courses are taught in English, CLU students benefit from studying and living alongside students from 80 different countries. French language courses are also available.

Housing

ABS is an urban campus with no on-site housing. The staff assists students in finding appropriate off-campus housing, ranging from homestays with partial board to shared or individual apartments where students are responsible for their meals.

The University

The American Business School of Paris (ABS) is part of a consortium of schools that collectively enrolls 3,000 students in Paris. International students comprise over 50% of this population.

ABS is located in the 19th arrondissement and is convenient to the Louis Blanc metro stop as well as two major train stations. The campus provides computer facilities and areas for study. The institution is strongly committed to international relations, utilizing collaborative teamwork in many of its courses.
