It is in difficult times that leaders make a difference in the community. They provide guidance, hope and tools to navigate challenging situations. Leadership cannot be improvised.

The Center for Nonprofit Leadership helps create the leaders our community needs and deserves. Investing in the Center for Nonprofit Leadership is investing in our community.

-Jorge Arellano, Executive Director & Head of Value Access & Policy, Intercontinental Region - Amgen CNL Advisory Board Member

Your investment in the Center for Nonprofit Leadership will give nonprofits the skills & resources they need to adapt to constant change.

- Program offerings on virtual platforms. The Center for Nonprofit Leadership has hosted and co-convened 40 webinars and virtual workshops, serving 3,695 attendees since March 2020, representing an over 250% increase in leaders served in just one year!

- Financial help with program fees. Registration and participation fees to all virtual workshops and training sessions were suspended through the end of June 2020. When fees were re-introduced mid-summer, the CNL Advisory Board expanded the valuable benefits associated with individual membership to include full and free access to all workshops for a one-time annual fee of $150.

- Geographic reach to Los Angeles, Santa Barbara and beyond. To date, we have grown the subscribers to our monthly electronic newsletter by 79%, to 5,698 subscribers.

- Support our Program Specialist. In June, we welcomed Jennelyn Tumalad who has already made extraordinary contributions to our work, and who we can all look forward to meeting in person, one day very soon!

- Continuing efforts to advance diversity, equity and inclusion. We remain committed to building and supporting healthy pipelines of diverse leaders working within and supporting a vibrant and sustainable nonprofit sector. This will include readying and supporting traditionally under-recruited and under-represented leaders for future board service, training and lifting up emerging leaders of color for meaningful nonprofit service and finally, but perhaps most importantly, continue to cultivate and support facilitators and volunteer leaders who reflect those we seek to serve.

- Support the Center’s ability to do our work. While we are a proud part of the Cal Lutheran family, the Center for Nonprofit Leadership depends fully on generous donors like you who can have a large impact on all nonprofits through your contribution.
